

The Petwood Hotel together with the English Golf Union at the National Golf Centre in Woodhall Spa will create a personal golfing break for you.

Whether you are organising a corporate event, a group holiday or simply a relaxing few days with friends, we will talk through your individual requirements and put together a package which is ideally suited to you.

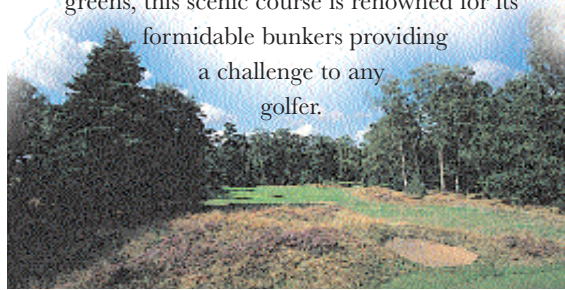

The National Golf Centre in Woodhall Spa is the home of amateur golf in England.

At this unique golfing venue you are offered a choice of two excellent courses as well as a centre of training excellence.

The Hotchkin Course

One of Britain's finest courses established for over 100 years, is built on sandy soil which allows for year-round play. Set amongst banks of gorse and broom, with heather lined fairways and well protected greens, this scenic course is renowned for its formidable bunkers providing a challenge to any golfer.

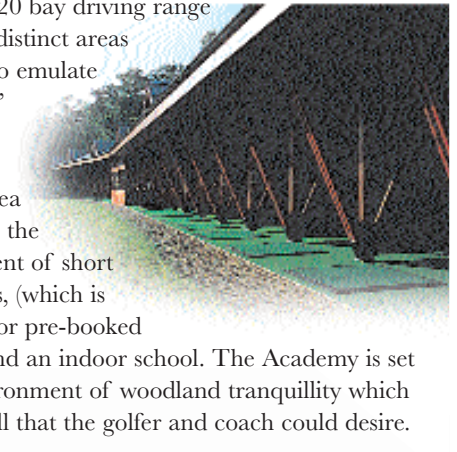

The Bracken Course

A new course of exceptional finesse and imaginative design. Huge undulating greens and fairways shaped to demand thoughtful shot-making are integrated with subtle reproductions of some of the more recognised features of the Hotchkin course.

The Academy

A floodlit 20 bay driving range overlooks distinct areas designed to emulate 'on course' situations. Together with an area devoted to the development of short game skills, (which is available for pre-booked parties), and an indoor school. The Academy is set in an environment of woodland tranquillity which provides all that the golfer and coach could desire.

PETWOOD HOTEL

Conveniently situated within a mile of the National Golf Centre the Petwood Hotel, with 53 well appointed bedrooms, provides comfortable accommodation in relaxing surroundings.

Built as a private residence in the early 1900's and set in a 30 acre estate, the Petwood Hotel is well known as the wartime home of 617 Squadron, the Dambusters.

Many of the original features have been retained today, including the magnificent hand carved staircase.

The hotel has a popular restaurant specialising in local produce and light meals are available in the Terrace Bar.

Private rooms available for dining.
